Say 'Yes' to a coronavirus vaccination!
Protect yourself and others.

Do your bit to help contain the highly infectious viral disease COVID-19.

● The top priority is vaccination safety

- All the vaccines meet the very high quality requirements of the European approval process.
- All the vaccines have been tested for tolerance, safety and efficacy.
- They are subject to ongoing, independent scientific checks.
- All reported side effects are recorded centrally. Information on the vaccines and their side effects at www.leverkusen.de

● Side effects and vaccine reactions

- People generally have a mild reaction to the vaccine. The reactions include pain at the injection site, reddening/swelling, fatigue and muscle pain.

● The coronavirus vaccination

- is voluntary and free of charge for everyone
- is only possible with an appointment
- is a two-part process – full protection is only afforded following the second vaccination
- will initially only be available at the Leverkusen Vaccination Centre

I want to be vaccinated!

Germany's federal government has determined an order of vaccination. The subsequent procedure will then depend on vaccine availability. For the very latest information, go to www.leverkusen.de

● Group 1 – very high risk (e.g.)*

Over 80s, ICU staff, casualty department staff and emergency services staff

● Group 2 – high risk (e.g.)*

70–80-year-olds, people with Down's syndrome, people with dementia, transplant patients, contact people of care recipients

● Group 3 – heightened risk (e.g.)*

60–70-year-olds, people with underlying health conditions, the police and firefighters, day care workers, teachers, retail workers

* This order is provisional.

According to the federal government, all citizens are likely to be offered a coronavirus vaccination appointment starting in late summer 2021.

2 Register at the Vaccination Centre

ID, appointment confirmation and vaccination documents (if you have any).
